

WRITING CENTER

Useful Websites on Writing and Documentation

UHCL links

www.uhcl.edu/writingcenter

The Writing Center's webpage contains downloadable tip sheets on a variety of writing topics. Students may also schedule face-to-face and online appointments and read about our online tutoring service on our webpage.

www.uhcl.edu/library

The Neumann Library's website includes tips on research and citation. Library patrons can also access academic journals and research databases online. Reference librarians are available to meet with students for one-on-one research assistance.

Documentation and General Writing

<http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/>

Purdue University's comprehensive writing website provides useful information for all writing, documentation and formatting needs.

www.citationmachine.net

Son of citation machine offers a fill-in-the-blank form that helps writers with in-text citations and reference or works cited pages. APA, Chicago/Turabian, MLA

NOTE: All citations should be reviewed with other sources for citations to assure correctness.

<http://21cif.com/tools/citation>

21st Century Information Fluency offers a citation wizard that includes CSE, MLA, and APA documentation styles.

Writing and More Documentation

www.nutsandboltsguide.com

This web site offers guidance for writing with APA, MLA, and Chicago styles. The site also contains useful information on academic writing.

www.dianahacker.com/resdoc

This web site contains information about conducting research in various disciplines as well as information about formatting and documentation in MLA, APA, and Chicago styles. Also contains sample papers.

Search Engines and Other Resources

www.beaucoup.com

links to many hundreds of search engines. I personally find this site very useful because it frequently offers specialized search engines and multiple engine searches that provide results you simply won't get with Google.

www.bedfordstmartins.com/hacker/resources.htm

Hacker Handbook information on internet research.